Remember when...

Remember senior year of high school when you were given an assignment, and your teacher "made it rain" with graphic organizers, broke the paper down into steps, gave you various due dates, and reminded you almost every day!?

Well that is no longer the case in College! And making this transition can be a tough one, even though your first thought may be...

- "Yes! No one's bugging me anymore!," or "I can finally work at my own pace!"

News Flash! Procrastination is REAL, and the paper/assignment may become more of a challenge than you thought, BUT no worries the Writing Studio is here to help!

The Writing Studio

Who We Are

The writing studio works with students on a range of assignments, and not necessarily all writing based. Students are welcome to come in to get help for a number of reasons such as:

- Time management
- Organization
- Brainstorming ideas
- Hosting study groups
- Presentation skills
- Resumes/cover letters/artist statements
- A quiet place to study
- Writing a paper
- Help with citations or annotations
- Tip sheets on formatting

Staffing at the writing studio is made up of past and present Montserrat students and faculty. They are all super-talented and happy to help with anything you may need, so come check us out!
